

Hermann Oak® Saddle Skirting Leather

Thought by many to be the best skirting leather on the market today, this leather is tanned in the U.S. utilizing heavy native steer hides. This very firm leather has just the right amount of oil content and adding water allows you to soften and mould the leather for optimal results when tooling, stamping and carving. When your work dries, the leather will be crisp and firm and will easily accept oil to the degree you desire.

When using this leather from Hermann Oak®, your saddles will stand out and command a higher price. Hang tags featuring the Hermann Oak® logo are available for attachment to your saddle to let your customers know they're getting premium leather from this trusted tannery. Simply ask your customer service specialist to add them to your order. This beautiful leather is available in natural or chestnut. The drum dyed chestnut color is still perfect for tooling, stamping and carving. It oils to a beautiful reddish brown with just one coat of oil. TR selection is priced per side, per pound or per square foot.
